

We create and foster opportunities for people of all ages to

- learn from and about horses
- appreciate their gifts
- support their well-being.

T.J. brings joy to residents of Juniper Village's memory care facility in Louisville.

We value

- The traditions, practices, and applications of natural horsemanship
- The power of the human-animal bond
- The legacy of America's wild horses and burros.

Spirit Horse Alliance

We're a home-grown, hands-on service organization that creates and fosters opportunities for people of all ages to learn from and about horses.

Trail safety

For hikers and mountain bikers in the region, we've conducted clinics to promote safe sharing of multi-use trails.

Seniors

Many seniors now living in residential care centers grew up on ranches and farms. We took horses to them so they could once again stroke the soft muzzles and savor the presence of these intelligent, intuitive, beautiful creatures.

Young readers

We inspired young readers to log more than 14,000 hours in a public library's summer reading program.

Youth and adult community service

Young people and adults learn as they work outdoors in Spirit Horse-sanctioned community service programs.

Equine welfare

When a food manufacturer consigned 74 fifty-pound bags of rolled oats to the dumpster, our volunteers stepped in. The edibles landed in the grain pans of appreciative equines in the region.

When Boyd, a tailless abandoned donkey miraculously escaped slaughter, Spirit Horse sponsored his rehabilitation.
